YEARBOOK

THE TWENTY-THIRD VOLUME OF THE YEARBOOK
OF RUTLAND HIGH SCHOOL, RUTLAND, VERMONT,
PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS

Editor-in-Chief--FRED HYLAND

Business Manager--SHIRLEY BERSAW

FOREWORD

We have chosen the fifty-two playing cards contained in a deck as the theme for the Talisman of the class of nineteen fifty-two. We have our kings and queens, the leaders of our high school years, our jacks in the trades of school life, and our aces, valuable in any game. There are some jokers, some deuces, some trumps—all kinds among us just as in a pack of cards.

Winning or losing depends upon the turn of the cards, but one who is skilled in the game and plays his best stands a very good chance of winning. So it is in life. What we are or will be may depend upon fate, but if we give our best to accomplish our goal we stand a very good chance of succeeding.

DEDICATION

We, the members of the class of 1952, dedicate our Talisman to Miss Marie W. Johnson, in deep appreciation of the kindness and friendliness which she has shown us during our years in Rutland High School.

We have profited by her guidance as an instructor in the Commercial Department and as faculty adviser of the National Honor Society. Some of us have had the privilege of being in her home room during our senior year. She has earned the sincere respect and gratitude of all of us for her understanding of youth. We have known her as a kind and sympathetic teacher, but more often as a dear friend. The members of our class will remember Miss Johnson as one of the teachers who have enriched our school years.

President's Message

As graduating seniors, the class play, Ramshackle Inn, the state championship teams, and other memorable events call to our minds the education that we have received as a class.

We have been prepared for a vocation or college education and for a place in our community. Still more important, we have gradually come to know ourselves and have grasped a better understanding of others. It is only by knowing oneself and by being honest with that "self" that we can always give our best. Only by understanding others can we begin to be of valuable service to our friends and fellowmen. These benefits have been presented to us through the study of diversified subjects and numerous extra-curricular activities.

We sincerely thank our teachers, our parents, and the people of Rutland for extending this appreciated opportunity to us.

EARLENE GERMON

Class History

We hope to acquaint you with the activities of our class, from September 1948 to June 1952, by telling you a few tall tales.

AS FRESHMEN

We entered Rutland High looking very green indeed! We looked even greener after Judge Jim Vennett and his court got through with us at the Freshmen Reception. Kathy Billings was chosen queen, and Malc Guild was the king.

Malcolm Guild served as president, our first year, with George Hansen, vice president; and Carole Franzoni, secretary-treasurer.

We were well represented in the sports department. Our freshman basketball team ended the season with 15 wins and 6 losses. They entered the tournament and lost their last game to M.S.J.

Malc Guild, Joe Roberts, George Cady, and Sandy Guynup did exceptionally well on the J.V. squad, too.

Every team has to have its cheerleaders. Carole Franzoni, Janet Brush, and Earlene Germon looked very "hep" on the Junior Varsity squad.

Bill Farwell, Jim Jeffords, Nelson Baldwin, George Cady, Joe Roberts, Sandy Guynup, George Hansen, Malc Guild, Russell Shappy, Earl Perkins, Marty Welch, and Bernie Rome were our representatives on the football team. They worked hard, and we were very proud of them.

AS SOPHOMORES

Being much wiser, and a better shade of green we started our sophomore year with Stephen White as president, George Hansen vice president, and Marty Welch secretary-treasurer.

Being interested in making money, we got off to a quick start with the "Winter Carnival." We continued with our Sophomore Hop, which was one of the best this school has ever seen.

Leila Goodrich, Kathy Billings, Barbie Walker, and Lucille Mullin were chosen as majorettes. Earlene Germon, Janet Brush, and Carole Franzoni were elected to the Varsity cheering squad.

Roberta Cook became the first and last girl to walk off with a trophy for putting her right arm to use on the bowling alleys.

AS JUNIORS

In our junior year, George Hansen moved up a step, and became class president. Pearl King was vice president, and Malc Guild was the secretary-treasurer.

"Carousel," our Junior Prom, was a huge success. One of our class beauties, Leila Goodrich, was queen.

On April fifth, 1951, George Hansen, John Hartigan, Joel Sherburne, Russell Shappy, and Earlene Germon were chosen to represent the class in the Rutland Chapter of the National Honor Society.

The pencil pushers, Leila Goodrich, Fred Hyland, Sandra Trop, Bev Chase, Charleen Burke, Florence Conner, Chris Hinds, Bob Freelen, Joel Farwell, Tom Dolan, John Hartigan, and George Hansen did a wonderful job with the news and notes on the Red and White.

Who can forget the fun at "Operation Laugh"? This was a group gathered together to do skits, and entertain the public, and add a little money to our treasury, incidentally. George Hansen was the brains behind the outfit.

We had our share of sweet potato tooters, and "Jenny Linds," too. Alan MacPherson, Ken Smith, Jim Jeffords, George Cady, Anita LaCross, John Hartigan, Roberta Cook, and Joel Sherburne demonstrated their skills at All-State Band, Orchestra, and Chorus.

We had some male "Andrea Meads" on the ski team; namely, John Hartigan, Tom Dolan, Jack Stetson, and Ted Willis.

Carleen Johnson and Joel Sherburne won prizes in the Edmunds Essay Contest.

AS SENIORS

The "grown-up" seniors, got off to a quick start showing their superiority. John Hartigan, serving as president, Betty Taylor as "Veep," Tom Dolan as treasurer, and Pearl King as secretary, led the class through a very successful year.

The eraser chewers moved into important jobs. Leila Goodrich became editor-in-chief of the Red and White, while Fred Hyland worked as assistant editor, Betty Taylor as Feature editor, Sandra Trop as News editor, and John Hartigan as Sports editor.

The Freshmen Reception showed the "greenies" being led through the streets of Bagdad, by George Hansen and his band of cut throats.

There were twelve very thrilled girls and boys who represented R.H.S. at Girls' State and Boys' State. These were: Leila Goodrich, Sue Norton, Pearl King, Carleen Johnson, Earlene Germon, Betty Taylor, Alan MacPherson, Bob Freelen, George Cady, John Hartigan, Joel Sherburne, and George Hansen. Our red head, George Hansen, went even farther, being chosen a delegate to Boys' Nation held in Washington, D. C.

Quiet Betty Taylor was chosen D.A.R. Good Citizenship Girl.

And then there was the senior play, "Ramshackle Inn." Sandra Trop did a fine job as Belinda Pryde, the old maid from Vermont looking for adventure. Joel Sherburne portrayed the sly gangster, Patton. Others in the cast included: Leila Goodrich, Janet Brush, Joe Roberts, Fred Hyland, Charlie Nassau, Bob Freelen, Carole Franzoni, George Hansen, Alan MacPherson, Christine Hinds, Bev Ladabouche, John Hartigan, Jack Stetson, and a very mysterious character who held the center of the stage at curtain call. Nancy Ward and Earlene Germon were assistant directors.

We had our year in the sports world. Everyone was buzzin' with talk about the football team Rutland had. Led by Co-captains Joe Roberts and George Cady, the team brought home the city and state championships. Others on the team were: Malc Guild, Sandy Guynup, Jim Jeffords, "Dub" Baldwin, Bill Farwell, Dave Wisell, and Jack Stetson. These boys were so good that they were invited to play in the Peanut Bowl held in Georgia on New Year's Day. They were unable to go, but if they had we're sure they would have come home victorious.

The cheerleaders were given the title, "Seven Reasons Why R.H.S. Became Football Champs." Their pep and originality did much to spur the team on. Carole Franzoni, Janet Brush, and Earlene Germon were co-captains.

Not to be outdone, the basketball team, led by Russ Shappy, came through with the city title (beating M.S.J. 46-39), Southern Vermont League title, and state title (beating Spaulding 42-36). They lost their first game in Boston Garden, but managed to place one man on the All-Tourney Team. Congratulations to Malc Guild! George Cady, Sandy Guynup, Jim Jeffords, and "Dub" Baldwin made up the rest of the team.

Tom Dolan and Jack Stetson acted as co-captains of the ski team.

The band did oh-so-much to give support to the team. They looked very snappy being led by drum major, Leila Goodrich.

Leadership, Character, Scholarship, and Service are just some of the traits of the class of '52. Best of luck to all of you.

The Story Teller,
EARLENE GERMON.

Prophet

GEORGE HANSEN

Class Prophecy

My reign, as the slickest gambler in this here country, has lasted longer than the pony express, longer than the stage coach, but, alas, not so long as the New Deal party has been in the White House. I've also been known to be able to read the cards and see into the future. The Class of "52" has made a request for such a reading and here is what I foresee for them.

CLUBS turned first a sign of a road to adventure.

Al MacPherson was deported from Scotland because of the embarrassment he caused several of the clansmen while seeking to answer one of the mysteries of history. Does a Scotchman wear anything under his kilts?

After touring the world, under the NROTC plan, Malcolm "gumdrops" Guild says, "There's no place as scenic as Killington Heights."

Larry Foster has withdrawn from the senatorial race after he learned that the St. Lawrence Water Way Project was not an effort of the Vermonters to make him a saint.

Chief Inspector Carl Ghio of Scotland Yard has organized an international drag-net for painter Carlos Blakely. Quoting Inspector Ghio, "The blarney bloke painted the White Cliffs of Dover purple."

Sandy Guynup, three letter man in high school, still is a three letter man. He is now working for the F. B. I.

Bill Farwell has been seen looking over Jack Benny's old Maxwell. Rumor has it that "Wild Bill" is looking for something with more power than his broken down DeSoto.

It has been announced by "Bloomer-Ball" Rome, of Ronay's Bloomer Boys, that the club will have to fold up because of the mysterious disappearance of sweat shirts, baseballs, bats, athletic socks, and other goods.

FLASH! Hum! This is interesting. Norton Cobb and David Quinn, have just opened a sporting goods store.

Sandra Trop has been appointed the first lady ambassador to Russia. It seems to me she always was Russian, even at Senior Play practice. Eh! Sandra?

Admiral James Jeffords has put in a request to Rear Admiral Raymond Butler to change the color of his ship from a "Sandy grey" to all "White." However, his plan got caught in "The Web."

"Stretch" Stetson has risen to new heights in the sporting field, reports writer Robert Freelen. He now plays for Notre Dame, and several other dames, too.

Freelen, although nationally famous, still is a solid Vermonter. A Texan recently asked him where he came from. Bob replied in his slow way, "Why I come from the state of Vermont."

"Vermont, a state? I thought it was an outlying province of Texas," said the Texan. Bob's response—"Sir, no one can out lie Texas."

Lucille Mullin has been employed by the Rosenblatt Dress Factory to become a slugger on their soft ball team. Lucy always had a nice swing.

HEARTS turned; this shows a sign of distrust of acquaintances, possible betrayal, and smooth business dealings.

Dick "The Stick" Grace has lost a $25,000 divorce suit to his once beloved wife, Barbara Walker. They now call him Dick "The Shafted" Grace.

Farmers, Reginald Wilson and Walter Gibbs, have recently filed suit against the Rutland Railroad. They complain the train is so slow that hay loaded at Clarendon is completely gone when it hits Rutland because the cows along the way eat it.

Dentist John Poore had to change his name after his business sign spoiled his practice. It read John POORE DENTIST.

Tom Dolan, former business manager of the Red and White, is still the business man he used to be. Recently Jean Morris, wife of the deceased Rudolph Valentino, came into his store to buy a suit to bury her husband in. Tom sold her an extra pair of pants.

Joe Roberts, the illustrious Scotchman, and famous golf player, was asked why he had given up his favorite sport.

"Ach, I nae play agin," sighed Joe.

"Why not?" advanced the ever inquisitive Bob Robinson.

"Ach," said Joe, "I lost me ball."

Earl and Jane Perkins, the sensational brother and sister routine, gained popularity as they danced all over Paris, that is, until Diane complained.

Kathy Billings has told her students, Arlene Hadley and Beverly Briggs, that it was correct to call a boy friend a plum, but not a prune; a kitten, but not a cat; a duck, but not a goose; or a vision, but not a sight.

Ah Hah! DIAMONDS, signifying good fortune.

For those girls with that purest, hardest form of allotropic carbon on their third finger, I foresee a happy future. Good luck! Pearl King, Mary Ann King, Florence Conner, Anita LaCross, Jean Gee, Shirley Bersaw, Mary Ellen Booth, and Joan Morancy Thomas.

Mary Ann Sobotka is now living in Madagascar, where she has established the first male harem. She's the one that could do it.

George Cady, Charleen Burke, Dick Rice and Yvonne Raymond have completed a book titled, The Ups and Downs of Life.

Roberta Cook has changed her maiden name, but she still is a good cook. You would be, too, with seventeen of your own to do it for.

Dave Wisell is rewriting Webster's Fifth Edition Dictionary. He is trying to prove to English teachers, June Parker and Carleen Johnson, that Hu-g-g-i-e is pronounced Hu'gie and not Hug'gie.

"Pappy" Soulia has finally found the reason for his nickname by looking it up under "adult" in Hugie's new book. An adult is a person who has stopped growing at both ends and is now growing in the middle.

After having ten accidents in his senior year Fred Hyland has now qualified to replace Mr. Canary as Driver Training teacher at Rutland High School. Some guys get all the breaks.

Minnie King is now a millionaire. It seems, back in '52, she collected a penny for every bad word spoken in her brother's car. What a plunder!

SPADES are up; the rapiers warn us against assaults which threaten and will occur sooner or later.

Leila "The Hypochondriac" Badpoor (Goodrich) has baffled the Lada-bouche and Feather Foundation when she was admitted with a double diagnosis of Saint Vitus Dance and Rheumatism. What a combination!

Earlene Germon was burned at the stake by members of the Ku Klux Klan for her efforts in reforming Louie Long's old machine.

"Poncho" Wilder, Willie Sutton's gun man, was proclaimed at his execution, as the nation's most perfect gentleman. For you see, at the last minute, he offered his seat to Warden "Dub" Baldwin. Now wasn't that nice of him?

Peggy Mandigo, Beverly Russo, and Ruth Kimberly have been named defendants in violation of the Taft-Hartley Law. It seems they dropped a few stitches in John L's union suit. They now wish they had paid more attention in Miss Bresnehan's Home Economics Course.

Don Lefrancois was also arraigned in court by Anna Rosenberg's assistant, Betty Mitchell. He was charged for infringing on the Sherman Anti-Trust. The suit was founded on the supposed monopoly of all gas stations in Vermont. That's quite a climb since the days when he owned only one on South Main.

President John Hartigan has been assassinated by Richard Adams. At his trial "Crowfoot" pleaded insane and kept singing, I Didn't Know the Gun Was Loaded.

And, Oh! No. This can't be. Bob "The Problem" Dikeman is going to beat me in a game of Canasta. How could I have fallen to the level of that game. I'd better tell the leader of my bridge circle. Joel Sherburne, when he hears this! Well, Class of '52, I am afraid that I'll have to refuse to testify further on the grounds that I might incriminate myself.

Class Will

We, the cards of nineteen hundred and fifty two, having shuffled along for four years, and, having had our hearts clubbed into the right game, believing we have learned the fundamentals of stacking the deck to insure the continuance of our lucky streak throughout the gamble of life, leave this final will and testament as a symbol of our winnings.

RUSS SHAPPY leaves his "shape" in memory of the "Shapey" regime that has cluttered the halls of R.H.S. for a quarter of a century.

BOB "the scribe" FREELEN wills his pen to hold the next yearlings in.

CHARLEEN JOHNSON bequeaths her end of a conversation to "Mimi" Bolton, Pat Derby, Pat Duclo, and Lois Perry. (Don't fight, girls; there's enough for all.)

Arch-spies, NANCY WARD and EARLENE GERMON, leave their posts in the "Nebraska" territory to their followers.

BERNIE ROME cedes his share in the "Handy Hank" business. Says Louie, "Anahist is just ruining my business."

JOHN POORE leaves his name as a reminder as to what girls can do to a boy's pocketbook.

BETTY TAYLOR wills her string of A's to sew up the Honor Roll for some ambitious student.

HAROLD CHADBURN gladly gives his axe to some underclassman who can at least tell his foot from the tree.

MISS CHENEY leaves Day in June to "Luscious Lou's" followers.

RICHARD GILLIGAN wills his tongue to Spam, Inc. He doesn't use it.

PEARL KING, MARY ELLEN BOOTH, JEAN GEE, FLORENCE CONNER, SHIRLEY BERSAW, ANITA LACROSS, MARY ANN KING, and JOANNE MORANCY-et-I mean THOMAS, leave fully engaged and out of circulation. Tough luck, fellows!

SUE wills not a pound, NOR-TON, but rather her accomplishments at Girls' State to next year's candidates.

MARTIN WELCH, "Private Eye", bequeaths his pipe to keep the gossip smoking.

BEVERLY LADABOUCHE leaves her college clan to mature the underclass boys.

DALTON ATHEY wills his "Goldy Locks" to the "bear"-headed crew-cut boys.

TED WILLIS wills Wills to Mr. Sloan, who seems to have taken a fancy to the name.

ARDIS STRATTON, CAROLE SANTWIRE, and FRANCIS WEST hand down their binoculars to the up and coming Stratton Road gang so they may also learn the finer arts of the "Romances."

CHARLEEN BURKE leaves as only the grocery man's daughter, but what a tomato!

GERALD YOUNG is the last one you'd expect to leave, alphabetically that is.

"STRETCH" STETSON parts with the memory of rings under his eyes and "Gars" on his face.

RAY "I was framed" BUTLER wills a bottle of Air Wick to Teacher "Monk" Martin, who is quoted as saying, "Sometimes my class is mighty stinken."

LEILA GOODRICH leaves her last name which typifies the aim of all the scheming senior girls.

JOE ROBERTS bequeaths his line to the up and coming Casanovas. It's held quite a load in its day.

ELEANOR, DON, KEN, and NELSON leave the teachers wondering where their followers are. What! No senior Smiths next year?

ROBERT ADAMS donates his purple, pickled appendix to the Biology bloody, blue, bedbug bisectors.

BARB WALKER hands down the following advice to junior girls. "Don't 'Stretch' them too far. Don't let them get too 'Frisch,' And if they're 'Greene' nip them at the 'Bud.' Finally, don't expect every GRACEful 'Burke' tree to fall like 'Timmer.' "

ALAN MACPHERSON leaves to Dye,—his tricky trumpet lips.

SANDY GUYNUP bequeaths the secret of how to change a gridiron bearhug into a lovePAT.

BEVERLEY CHASE leaves running after—

JOAN BURR wills her "Steele" for the girls to construct cages to keep their men in.

BOB DIKEMAN leaves, preparing to hold back the flood of tears on graduation day.

BILL FARWELL wills Mrs. Brush to guard the junior girls.

CAROL FRANZONI gives her various rings, basketballs, etc., to be apportioned equally among the surviving girls.

GEORGE CADY takes off, leaving poor Mr. Douglas with no one to see eye to eye with him.

BEVERLY WALKER leaves, after hardly having had time to take her coat off.

Galloping "DUB" BALDWIN wills his sense of humor to cheer up next year's locker room.

YVONNE RAYMOND leaves the school with the thought that pleasant surprises come in small packages.

TOM DOLAN and DOLORES CAMERON remove themselves as the only seniors to be latched, clasped, tied, hooked, snared, trapped, linked, bound, bonded, connected, roped, snagged, affiliated, allied, chained, etc.

DORIS ELLIOTT, niece of "Wild Bill" leaves still trying to rope a boy for senior week.

HELENA ROUSSEAU leaves us still wondering what the navy looks like beneath his disguise.

MALC GUILD wills his terrific athletic ability to that poor, uncoordinated, miserable mess of masculinity, Olaf Garcia.

JANET BRUSH bequeaths her "Brush" to any girls having trouble giving boys the "Brush" off.

FRED HYLAND leaves French class. Boy, is Miss Bailey happy!

DICK GRACE leaves, finally.

CHARLES NASSAU wills the map to Montreal. It seems Chucker, the wheel with the deal, heard that the cottonwood trees are much softer to run into.

MARY ANN SOBOTKA wills her date book to the homely junior girls. Okay, girls, haul it away.

KATHY BILLINGS leaves you to "figure out" why she wore sweet sweaters. Any explanation needed?

DAVEY QUINN leaves the memory of the hottest kiss a female ever gave him—the night Doris forgot to remove the cigarette from her mouth.

To LEILA GOODRICH, who always said she'd bet a "weed" that a bunch of underclass damsels would get his money, JOHN HARTIGAN leaves, a "weed."

CHRISTINE HINDS wills her talking tempo to Mr. Purdy. (U. S. History is now a half-year subject.)

GEORGE HANSEN will head for the wilds of Clarendon as soon as the "Herricksy" of the Prophecy is revealed.

JOEL FARRELL wills his armload of books to the grinds of next year's class. Says "Cice", "I'll need a truck when I get to college."

NORTON COBB leaves (after cleaning out the coaches' room) the job of grooming Dido's boys to "Snooky" Cobb. That's enough "corn," huh colonel?

On this, the twenty fifth day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-two, not necessarily having picked the diamonds of our successes, nor called a spade a spade, I hereby cause my signature to be placed on and in witness of this, our final will and testament of the cards of "52."

CLASS SONG

Words: BETTY TAYLOR

Music: JOHN HARTIGAN

Four years ago we arrived
In the halls of Rutland High.
Oh! How fast on the wings of time
These last few years did fly.
We are leaving our beloved school
And those for whom we cared,
Our teachers and our classmates
Whose tears and joys we shared.
Before we say our last goodbye,
The echoing halls resound
Our four pleasant years spent here
And the happiness we found.
As we take our place tomorrow,
You'll find us far and near
In colleges or at work
But our hearts will still be here.
Here! In Rutland High School
Our hearts shall stay
And we bow our heads in sorrow
Because we leave today.

Boys' and Girls' States

The 1951 Green Mountain Girls' State representatives from our school were Pearl King, Earlene Germon, Susan Norton, Leila Goodrich, Carleen Johnson, and Betty Taylor. During the last week in June they were informed about Vermont State Government at Vermont Junior College. R.H.S. girls were active in glee club, the daily newspaper, sports and skit night. Leila received an award for submitting the best articles to Echo and was also nominated to attend Girls' Nation. The Rutland group left many new friends and fond memories behind them in Montpelier.

Eight boys were chosen to represent R.H.S. at the American Legion's Green Mountain Boys' State. These boys, selected for possessing qualities of character, leadership, co-operation and scholastic ability, spent an active and educational week at Norwich University. Here, they elected and ran a model state government.

Besides political activities, the boys participated in a sports program. There was also a band and a newspaper. To provide further recreation, each of the six towns, into which Boys' State is divided, was responsible for an evening's entertainment.

George Hansen was chosen as one of the two Vermont delegates to Boys' Nation held in Washington, D. C. Here, two delegates from most of the forty-eight states carried on a model national government.

Row two: Thomas Dolan, Doris Elliott, Leila Goodrich, Miss Katherine Moran, Faculty Adviser; Susan Norton, Janet Brush, Fred Hyland.
Row three: Joel Sherburne, John Hartigan, Malcolm Guild, Robert Freelen.
Row four: James Jeffords, John Stetson, Theodore Willis, Russell Shappy, Alan MacPherson, Head Monitor; George Hansen, William Farwell.

Monitor Squad

The 1952 Monitor Squad consisted of fourteen boys and thirteen girls, who supervised the passing of students to classes in an orderly manner.

Alan MacPherson served as Head Monitor and Robert Freelen held the office of secretary-treasurer; while Miss Moran, assisted by Miss Bailey and Mr. Sloan, acted as faculty adviser. Meetings were held on the second and fourth Wednesday of every month. The purpose of these meetings was to discuss traffic problems and general ways of improving the flow of traffic in the school.

It has been customary for the Monitor Squad to sponsor a social event during the school year. In accordance with this custom, the 1952 Squad held a dance on October 11, with the theme "Evening in Paris." Among other activities, fudge sales were conducted to raise extra money for the treasury. The highlights of the year included a movie assembly, and the creation of a new post in front of the typing room in response to a request of the Student Council. The year was climaxed with a banquet.

At the last assembly, the members of the 1953 Squad were elected and enthusiastically assumed their duties. Monitors are chosen for their qualities of leadership, responsibility, reliability, and character. It is considered an honor to become a member of this organization as Monitors assume the authority of teachers during the three-minute period between classes.

Ramshackle Inn

"Ramshackle Inn" under the able direction of Miss Audrey St. Clair, was presented on November 15, 16, and 17. The annual senior play was staged for three performances this year.

The play which is an interesting combination of comedy and real suspense takes place on the coast of New England during World War II. All the action occurs at a tumbling old inn, belonging to Mrs. Mame Phillips (Leila Goodrich). Unaware of the illegal activities being carried on within the walls of her cellar, she places an advertisement to sell the house in a national magazine. Miss Belinda Pryde (Sandra Trop) and her business partner, Commodore Towser (Alan MacPherson) answer the ad, and arrive on a stormy night just after a murder has been committed. Arbuthnot (George Hansen) is the victim.

Miss Pryde being very high-strung adds a great deal to the plot when she becomes involved in several murders, the rescuing of an innocent man from jail, and the saving of her own life.

The seniors portrayed their parts excellently. Due credit should be given to Patton (Joel Sherburne) the odd-job man at the inn, as well as the big guy of the racket being carried on there.

Joyce (Janet Brush) a guest at the inn turned out to be an agent for the F.B.I. and added a touch of sophistication. Constable Small (Fred Hyland) really brought the house down when he was around. Gilhooley (Joe Roberts) added more humor as he characterized a swaggering sergeant.

Mr. Temple (Charles Nassau) the local banker is a leading figure in the smuggling ring, and he has two partners, Dr. Russell (Robert Freelen) and Gail (Carole Franzoni), a tricky and demanding dame. Alice (Christine Hinds) is an innocent victim of these gangsters and she goes through many ordeals.

The love interest is provided by Bill Phillips (John Hartigan) and Mary Temple (Bev Ladabouche). To give an exciting climax, Porter (John Stetson) who is really the gang leader shows up, and with the careful figuring of Miss Pryde, Joyce, Small and several others the liquor smuggling ring is discovered and done away with.

The crews are to be especially congratulated for their untiring efforts to make the play the outstanding success it was.

Art Assistants

The Talisman is really very proud of its extensive art work this year. This amount and type of illustration were made possible with the aid of Miss Lucy Doane, Supervisor of Art, and several of her students; namely, Jane Nault, Howard Cobb, Sheila Sullivan, Richard Grace, and William Farwell.

Since the yearbook is a senior class undertaking our staff is grateful to this group largely made up of underclassmen for assisting in the production of an attractive and interesting book. The editorial staff planned the layout, and then Miss Doane and the group already named made the "pack of cards" come to life artistically. The Talisman's cover is the work of William Farwell '52, while Jane, Dick '52, Sheila, and "Snooky" illustrated the division pages. Fred Hyland '52 and Mimi Bolton worked on the title pages.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to Miss Doane and her capable assistants.

Student Council

Perhaps the most important organization in a high school is the Student Council. The function of this representative body is to unite the students and faculty to insure a smooth running academic and social life in the school. The constitution, as in our national government, is the basis for the powers invested in this unicameral body.

This year the members of the council tried to increase interest in school activities. In the fall, the football team received a financial and a morale boost during "Booster Week" sponsored by the council.

George Washington's 220th Anniversary Birthday Ball was planned, but had to be postponed on account of the contagious sickness spreading in the school at that time. In the spring an assembly was held to encourage interest in, and to raise funds for the track team.

An important change affecting the school was the standardization of the athletic award letter. This makes the football, basketball, baseball, and track letters all identical except for a small emblem attached to signify the sport participated in. A system of stripes has been inaugurated to indicate the number of years the recipient has won his letter.

Another addition to the powers of the Student Council is the responsibility of electing a senior boy each month to represent the school at the Lion's Club luncheon meetings.

National Honor Society

Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest honor attainable in Rutland High School. Only students who excel in qualities of scholarship, character, service and leadership are eligible for induction. Obviously a person who qualifies for membership is the possessor of a well-rounded personality.

Members of the class of 1952 who were selected during their junior year are: Earlene Germon, George Hansen, John Hartigan, Russell Shappy and Joel Sherburne.

On April 3, 1952 at an impressive induction ceremony these seniors were inducted: Robert Freelen, Leila Goodrich, Malcolm Guild, Sanford Guynup, Carleen Johnson, Alan MacPherson, and Betty Taylor. From the present junior class Betty Cameron, Jane Herrick, Linda McKerley, Peter Perkins, Gene Tappan and Mary Webber were selected for membership.

Sated: Dolores Cameron, Hope Thompson, Doris Elliott, Shirley Seager, Carleen Johnson, Evelyn Izenberg.
 Standing: Bruce Sherman, Richard Adams, Betty Cameron, Dale Benway.

Library Council

This year the Library Council consisting of nineteen members accomplished a great deal in improving our school library, and in acquainting R.H.S. students with Book Week and its significance. The year's officers were Betty Cameron, president and Mary Horton, business manager.

The council selected and purchased thirteen outstanding books; eight of these were fiction and five, non-fiction. To promote enthusiasm for Book Week, a contest was held and a panel discussion was presented at an assembly held that week. The contest awarded prizes for the best poster interpreting the Book Week slogan, and for the best poster illustrating a book or some phase of a book. The prizes were won by Marilyn Crossman and Louise Sargent, respectively.

The panel discussion was titled "Reading and Television." It was really an appraisal of the effect each has on the other. The discussion was carried on in a spontaneous and unrehearsed manner. Members of the panel were: Betty Cameron who acted as leader, Richard Adams, Carleen Johnson, Dale Benway, Lawrence Muhlberg, John Patten, Shirley Seager, Nancy Russell, and Carol Brown. Many students in the audience participated, and the discussion was stimulating and worthwhile.

Band and Orchestra

One of Rutland High School's assets is its excellent band. Under the direction of Mr. Low, this organization composed of fifty-eight musicians, engaged in many activities throughout the school year.

During the football season, the band presented pre-game and half-time shows at every home game. In October, for the band's first trip of the year, it traveled up-state to Barre to play at the Spaulding High School football game.

Majorettes

 Row two: Karleen Chapman, Joan Brewster, Lucille Mullin, Mary Roberts, Joan Goodrich.

On Saturday, December 1, a talent concert, featuring solos and small ensembles, was given at the high school. Then, on February 22, the band journeyed to Plainville, Connecticut for a combined concert with the Plainville High School band. Here it was credited most favorably by four separate adjudicators. This was followed, on Monday, February 25, by the first annual combined concert of the M.S.J. and R.H.S. bands.

On March 10, the band played for a cakewalk at the armory. In April it went to Pittsford where it played for the benefit of the Pittsford band. It also presented a joint concert at Rutland High School with the chorus.

The annual Vermont Music Festival in Burlington, on May 8, 9, and 10, was important because the band had to receive a first division rating to be eligible to go to the New England Music Festival. This year, the New England Festival was held in Amherst, Massachusetts, at the University of Massachusetts, on June 7. Between these two festivals, the band traveled to Crown Point, New York and participated in the Memorial Day parade there.

Two band members were selected for the All-New England band. They were John Hartigan (clarinet) and Richard Ianni (clarinet). This festival was held in New Britain, Connecticut, on March 5, 6, 7, and 8.

Those band members who played in the All-State band were Richard Ianni, Beverly Horton, Donald Evans, Shirley Seager, Laurence Muhlberg, Shirley Rice, Robert Mulholland, Janet Judkins, Kenneth Smith, Dale Benway, John Dye, James Jeffords, George Cady, and Edward Bartlett.

The majorettes were led by Drum Major, Leila Goodrich. Barbara Walker, Head Twirler; Lucille Mullin, Katherine Billings, Karleen Chapman, Joan Goodrich, Joan Brewster, and Mary Roberts completed the squad. Two freshmen, Judy White and Lynn Day, were chosen in the fall as members of next year's squad.

This year, the Rutland High School orchestra, under Mr. Low's direction, continued to grow in size and ability. The orchestra, composed of twenty-six musicians, practiced every Friday noon. Sectional rehearsals were held two periods each week.

The orchestra played between acts at the senior play, "Ramshackle Inn." It also was heard at the two performances of the Rutland Player's Club play, "Cuckoo on the Hearth." At the end of the year, it played for Baccalaureate and Graduation.

Patricia Cheney (violin) was chosen to go to New Britain, Connecticut for the All-New England Orchestra, in March. Several orchestra members were chosen for All-State orchestra. They were Joyce Chesley, Patricia Cheney, Anita LaCross, Pamela Babcock, Judith Clark, Joanna Taft, John Hartigan, Alan MacPherson, Elna Senecal, Joan Petraglia, David Petraglia, and Anthony Adams.

 Row two: Joyce Chesley, Elna Senecal, Carol Barter, Sibyl Chase, Joanna Taft, Louise Sargent, Judy Clark, Shirley Rice, Pamela Babcock, Anita LaCross, Accompanist.
 Row three: Dalton Athey, Dale Benway, John Hartigan, Janet Judkins, Julie Beane, John Dye, Joel Sherburne, James Jeffords.

Chorus

For those students who like to sing, the chorus is offered. This active group, working under the guidance of Mr. Low, made many appearances in public during the past school year.

The chorus rehearsed every Tuesday and Wednesday noon. Small group rehearsals were held during students' study periods throughout the week.

The first concert given by the chorus was the annual Christmas assembly. This year, with the co-operation of Mimes, it presented the "Childe Jesus" cantata. The chorus supplied the narrative in the form of music, while Mimes members did a pantomime representing the action taking place in the music.

In April, the chorus appeared in the Music Department concert with the band. Its first trip was to Burlington in May, where it was adjudicated in the Vermont Music Festival. A first division rating was required for the chorus to be eligible to go to the New England Music Festival at Amherst, Massachusetts. Its last trip was to this festival on June 7.

Those members chosen to attend the All-New England Chorus in New Britain, Connecticut were Leila Goodrich (soprano) and Shirley Riee (alto). Those chosen for All-State chorus were Leila Goodrich, Roberta Cook, Christine Hinds, Joel Sherburne, Earlene Germon, Nancy Ward, Rodney Whitney, Julie Beane, Sibyl Chase, Gene Tappan, and Roberta Bantis.

SASullivan

 Row two: Herbert Russell, Robert Freelen, Constance LaVecchia, Barbara Considine, Pamela Babcock, Roberta Cook, Robert Ellison, Constance Dailey, Leila Goodrich, Earlene Germon, Mary Webber.
 Row three: Evelyn Izenberg, Bonnie Phillips, Carol Barter, Ruth Johnson, Alan MacPherson, Helena Rousseau, Miriam Bolton, Sandra Trop.

Mimes

This year Mimes presented as its major production, "The Taming of the Shrew," by William Shakespeare. This play was presented as a student assembly program, and also for the Rutland Community Club.

The one-act play contest play was "Rosalind," by James M. Barrie presented at Proctor where the district contest was held.

With Mrs. L. Mabel Morrill as faculty adviser, Mimes elected John Hartigan as president, Leila Goodrich as vice president, Roberta Cook as secretary, Joel Sherburne as treasurer, and Earlene Germon as program chairman.

In addition to producing plays Mimes members learned about make-up and stage-craft.

Seated: Roberta Murray, Mary Lou Patterson, Jean Spaulding, Anne Wilson, Betty Lubinsky, Marlene Cocklin, Patricia Milne, Gail Marsh.
 Standing: Patricia Dodge, Francine Gross, Carol Brown, Beverly Fee, Robin Prespare, Karen Wener, Rona Cox, Marilyn Crossman, Gayle Gibson.

Junior Mimes

This year Junior Mimes members studied stage-craft which included stage directions, and stage techniques. Under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Greene Junior Mimes presented "Mrs. Harper's Bazaar," by Babette Hughes, for student assembly.

Another short play, a dramatization of "Bells in the Night," by J. Linwood Cutler, was presented before the children of the Vermont Association for the Crippled.

The club elected as president, Anne Wilson; as secretary-treasurer, Patricia Dodge; and as program chairman, Marilyn Crossman.

Editor-In-Chief Last NAMED AT A LATER DATE

An editorial board held Monday, November 5, at Rutland High School. The board members included: Editor-in-Chief, Leila Goodrich; Secretary, Sandra Trop; Treasurer, Betty Taylor; and other members: Doris Elliott, Joan Frether, Betty Ladd, and Miss MacPherson. The board will meet again on November 12, 1952, at the same place.

The Red and White, while Robert Freelen, is the main attraction, exchange editor and news editor. The Red and White is a feature writer. The experience with the Red and White is invaluable and education problem.

Business Board meetings each Tuesday night, regular Tuesday afternoon meetings, other special conferences will be arranged. At the next meeting the assistant editor and photo editor will be chosen. The members have also been asked to consider a theme for the yearbook, and to bring in various ideas and changes which might be included. They were also urged to look over year books from other schools.

A meeting of the Rutland Business Board is scheduled shortly under the supervision of Mr. Lewis E. McKerley, faculty adviser, who succeeds Miss Vera Egelston as adviser. At this time, a business manager will be named.

Considerable time, effort and money have to be put into the Rutland to make it a success. Miss Flynn and Mr. McKerley, faculty advisers, will both spend considerable time on this project.

The vice-presidency went to Richard Thomas with 59 votes. Patricia Dodge came in second with 27 votes, while Judith White and John Kellogg, followed with 26 and 22 votes, respectively.

Joan Looker, polling 45 votes, will fill the secretary-treasurer post. Nona Cox followed with 34 votes while William Tarbell received 22 votes. The remaining contestants, James Alcott and Joan Petraglia, polled 19 and 13 votes, respectively.

Of the 147 freshmen, 135 exercised their right to vote. This is approximately 91% of the class. The officers elected will not have many responsibilities except that of representing their class when necessary.

A short interview with each of the newly elected officers disclosed their interests and pastimes. They all participate in several sports. Norman Swanson, president, is a member of the International Relations Club. Enrolled in the college curriculum he says that he enjoys all subjects. Interested in sports, he nevertheless claims baseball as his favorite. Norman was the only freshman boy to make the honor roll for the first marking period.

Richard Thomas hopes that he will be able to live up to his duties as vice-president. Dick says that he is very much interested in the Rifle Club about to be formed by the City Recreation Council. His favorite sports are football, baseball and basketball. Dick is taking the college course and hopes to attend the University of Vermont.

The Red and White

The twenty five issues of the Red and White were produced this year by a staff of forty members, under the direction of the Editor-in-Chief, Leila Goodrich. She was assisted by Fred Hyland, the Associate Editor. Sandra Trop served as News Editor, Betty Taylor directed the Feature Department, and the Sports Section was edited by John Hartigan. Thomas Dolan supervised the activities of the business board, while George Hansen was Circulation Manager. Miss Madeline Buttles served as faculty adviser to the paper.

The Red and White is entirely self-supporting and is printed commercially; the cost of which, during the past year, was $1,430. Of this amount, $400 was collected in student subscriptions, the remainder from advertisements.

In contest judging with other papers throughout the country, the Red and White was given the rating of Excellent, first class, by the National Scholastic Press Association at the University of Minnesota.

Last fall the editors of the paper attended a Vermont Scholastic Press meeting conducted by the English Department of the University of Vermont. On May 5th of this year, the members of the staff held a banquet at the Wheeler Williams where awards were presented to the members for service.

Linda McKerley was chosen as the Editor-in-Chief of the Red and White for the year 1952-1953. The Associate Editor will be Janet Bidgood.

Under the able coaching of Miss Fredericks the girls' varsity basketball contingent posted an impressive 4-2 record for the season.

Rutland's hoopsters split a two game series with Ludlow and won single contests over Chester and Mount St. Joseph and Middletown Springs.

Gerry Cheney, Shirley Baker, and Barb Gilbert were the mainstays for the Rutland lassies. They formed such a potent offensive combination that they were referred to as the "big three."

Kneeling: Mary Hinsman, Beverly Horton.
Row two: Geraldine Cheney, Miss Mary Fredericks, Coach; Betty Shackett.

Commuters' Club

Again this year the Commuters' Club had a very successful year. This organization began in 1937 and had as its purpose to organize entertainment for the students who stay at school during the noon hour. Mr. Henry Doll is the faculty adviser of this group, and he is assisted by Miss Mary Bresnehan.

The present membership is large as well as active. The pupils in charge of obtaining new members were Earlene Germon and Roberta Cook. Dues for the year were fifteen cents. Several times during the year candy sales were held. Nancy Ward, Roberta Cook, Ray Butler, and David Wisell did a commendable job and earned extra money for the use of the club.

At the first meeting the following were elected:

President	EARLENE GERMON
Vice President	ALAN MACPHERSON
Secretary	NANCY RUSSELL
Treasurer	ROBERTA COOK

To take care of the social and business affairs of the club several committees were organized. The four officers and eight other members formed the executive committee. A ping pong tournament was staged with Joel Sherburne and Herbert Russell in charge. Another committee did an excellent job working on lunch room decorations.

Row nearest: Concetta LaVecchia, Howard Cobb, Elaine Knapp, Stetson Edmunds, Richard Tower, Beverly Fee.
 Row two: Donald Evans, Jane Herrick, Patricia Derby, Norman Swanson, Richard Foltz, Carol Burney.
 Row three: Gene Tappan, Georgia Louras, Judy Clark, Shirley Seager, Joan Hack.

International Relations Club

Meetings this year included motion pictures on "Boundary Lines," Egypt, Equador, China, Mexico; discussions on the Herald Tribune Forums; a Christmas and an April Fool party; a "Preferential Primary;" and such speakers as Miss Nellie Hermann who spoke about her life in Japan and showed colored moving pictures; Mr. Payson Webber who talked on the individual citizen as a politician; Mrs. Willy Jenson who helped translate a scrapbook from Austria; and Ted Willis who described his trip to the British Isles.

Club projects included gifts of money to a school in Lebanon; Unesco gift coupons to a school in India; magazines to John Seitz in Germany; six bags of clothing to the S.C.F.; magazines and letters to Austria; also a scrapbook describing R.H.S. and environs in response to a beautiful one sent by the pupils of Leising. Letters went to Germany, Italy, and Pakistan in connection with the $310.00 worth of Care-Unesco books sent to those countries.

Members earned money for their Student Exchange Scholarship Fund and other scholarships, through "Fiesta," a square dance; the sale of pencils and pins; the Curtis magazine drive; and working for Roxie.

Officers for the year were: Gene Tappan, president; Donald Evans, vice president; Connie LaVecchia, recording secretary; Patricia Derby, corresponding secretary; Jane Herrick, treasurer; Georgia Louras, project chairman; Robert Ellison, program chairman.

 Row three: Linda McKerley, Beverly Briggs, Nancy Ward, Doris Elliott, Dolores Cameron, Patricia Cheney, Jane Herrick, Mary Ann Sobotka, Adele Kennedy, Sally Gerdon, Sheila Sullivan.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association, composed of girls interested in athletics, plans the sports program and sees that the program is carried out properly.

The 1951-52 officers included Charleen Burke, president; Janet Brush, vice-president; June Cheney, secretary; and Katharine Billings, treasurer. Shirley Baker was elected hockey chairman and Sally Green was chosen basketball chairman. Meetings were held on the third Monday of the month with Miss Mary Fredericks present as faculty adviser. Dues of fifty cents and regular attendance at meetings were requisites for membership in the club.

A cookie sale and a dance were sponsored to earn extra money for the treasury. This year, the G.A.A. donated a considerable sum of money to the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team and paid part of the price of the membership pins. The club was very successful in carrying out its projects.

LOBB + GRACE INC.

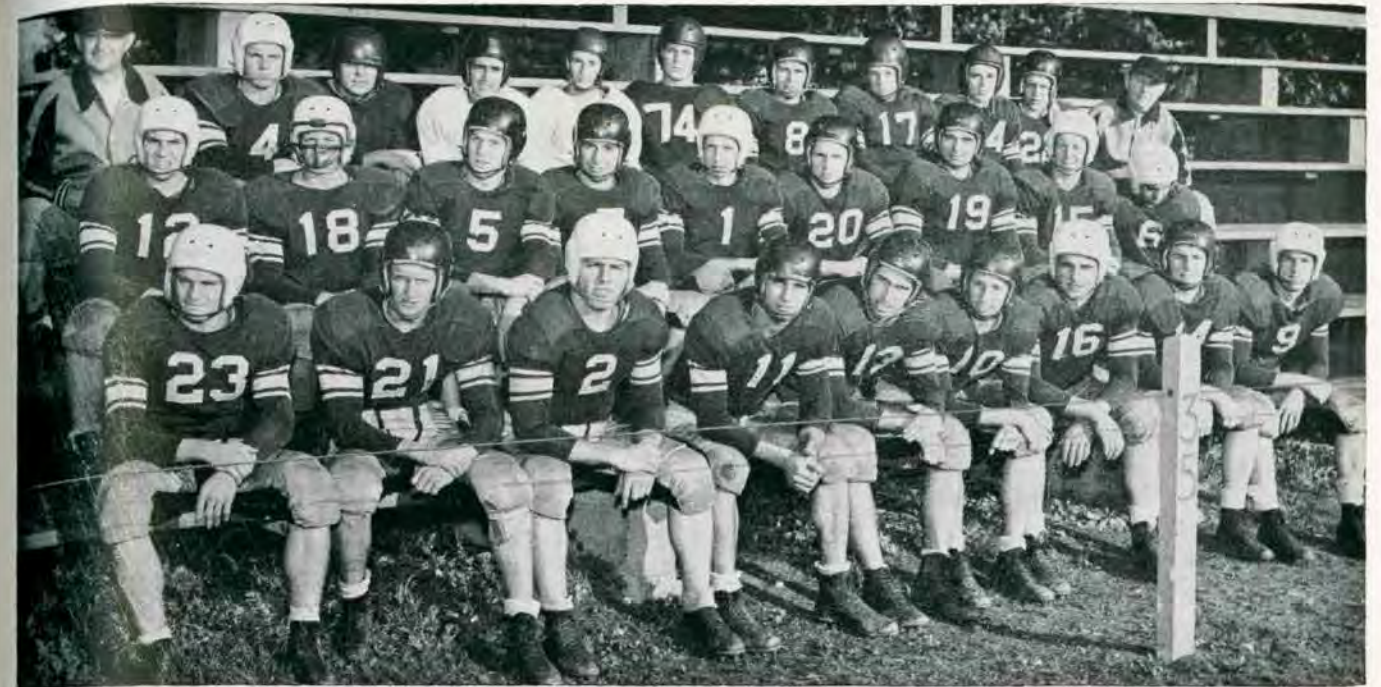

THE CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleaders had teams well worth boosting this year. Co-captains Carole Franzoni, Janet Brush, and Earlene Germon, all seniors, led the cheering squad throughout the outstanding seasons. Sophomores, Patricia Keefe and Sandra Paul, and the two juniors, Nancy Russell and Mary Webber were the other members of the squad. For a number of reasons this group has made Rutland High School history. They made a spectacular appearance at the R.H.S. vs M.S.J. game when they came onto the field bedecked in long white feather headdresses in true Indian style. Carole Franzoni was Gridiron Queen in 1949. Janet Brush and Mary Webber were chosen Tournament Queens in 1949 and 1950, respectively.

There were twelve jay-vees who did a splendid job this year. Of these girls three will be chosen for varsity next year. The varsity substitute, Linda McKerley, a junior, is also eligible for a varsity berth. Miss Mary Fredericks was faculty adviser of the squad.

Patricia Keefe, Mary Webber, Earlene Germon, Co-captain; Janet Brush, Co-captain; Carole Franzoni, Co-captain; Sandra Paul, Nancy Russell.

Row two: James Grady, Fred Taylor, William Farwell, Phillip Knapp, Jack Stetson, Charles Blanchard, Richard Lane, George Hansen, Olaf Garcia.

Eight seniors paved the way to the 1951 State Interscholastic Football Championship as Coaches Flaitz and Keefe turned out one of the greatest football teams in the history of R.H.S., and perhaps in the history of Vermont interscholastic football. The Raiders made it a banner year as they steamrolled over every opponent encountered. Upon the close of the 1951 campaign the might and finesse of the Redmen was acclaimed throughout the state and reached a fitting climax when the Rutland High gridmen received a bid to represent New England in the annual Peanut Bowl.

The Peanut Bowl is located in Columbus, Georgia and seats 23,000 spectators. This school boy classic takes place New Year's Day and features four games between the top high school grid teams in the country. However, because of other athletic commitments and the questionable weather at this time of year the Red Raiders had to forego their gridiron invasion of the South.

In the initial contest of the year the Redskins ripped St. Johnsbury Academy, a reputed northern power, by a 44-13 count. Offensively the Flaitzmen were paced by the versatile right halfback, Malc Guild, who scored four touchdowns on long gallops, and the polished line play was spearheaded by Co-captains, George Cady and Joe Roberts.

Once again it was the superb running of Malc Guild, who struck paydirt on three occasions, that enabled the Warriors to notch their second triumph, trouncing Bennington High 25-0.

On September 29, 1951, the Raiders overcame one of the major obstacles of the campaign as they tripped Spaulding High of Barre, 14-6, in one of the most thrilling tiffs of the season. The young sophomore quarterback, Stuart St. Peter, sent the Redmen out in front by booting the extra point, after Malc Guild weaved and spun for a 60 yard TD. Then in the early stages of the third period defensive halfback, Bill Farwell saved the day for Rutland as he intercepted a Barre pass on the eight yard stripe and galloped 70 yards to halt a Crimson threat. Guild took over and scooted 24 yards for his second score and St. Peter again kicked the extra point, making the count read 14-6 in favor of the Redskins.

Burlington was the next victim of the mighty Red Raiders as they folded under the powerful offensive drive of Coach Flaitz's charges. It was a decisive victory for the Warriors as the three G's—Guild, Garcia, and Grady—sparked the 32-12 decision.

Defense became the keynote as the Raiders racked up their fifth consecutive triumph, dropping the Bellows Falls Terriers 12-0. In this tilt the big Rutland forward wall stepped into the spotlight, with Sandy Guynup leading an attack that held the Terrier backs in check for duration of the tiff.

The next tilt was the pay-off, for the unbeaten Springfield Cosmos were the only gridsters left in the state who could halt the title-bound Flaitzmen. "Yogi" Garcia, a peppery little junior, gained recognition as a scoring threat by hitting pay dirt twice and Russ Shappy, a senior who had never played football until this year romped over with the winning tally for the Redmen. But the 19-14 win was not an easy one for the Raiders, who had staved off a Cosmos drive during the final three minutes of play.

Snapping out of an offensive slump the Redskins secured their seventh straight win, rolling over the Brattleboro Colonels 45-18. It was a bonus day for the backfield members as five different backs notched Rutland's seven scores.

Next came the Armistice Day classic with M.S.J., and the Redmen took full advantage of their power as they crushed the Acads 35-0 to post their eighth consecutive victory. The Mounties were practically helpless as they could neither gain substantial yardage against the huge Rutland forward wall nor stop it from plowing a clear path for the Raider backs. "Yogi" Garcia, Jim Grady, and Malc Guild—the three G's—smashed through the Green Wave for four touchdowns and Stuart St. Peter posted the fifth TD, in addition to performing a brilliant kicking exhibition, splitting the uprights five consecutive times for extra tallies.

There were various reasons for the tremendous success of the 1951 Red Raiders and perhaps foremost was the excellent coaching of Lloyd Flaitz and Leo Keefe, line coach. Flaitz is one of the most experienced coaches in the state and with Keefe as an assistant the two have combined to form one of the "winningest" staffs in Vermont schoolboy football. Let's hope that it will continue to produce championship teams for R.H.S.

In addition to the coaching an equally important factor was the spirit instilled by Russ Shappy, George Cady, Joe Roberts, Jim Jeffords, Sandy Guynup, Howard Cameron, Jack Stetson, Malc Guild, Nelson Baldwin, Bill Farwell, George Hansen, Tom Dolan, and Dave Wisell, the senior members. Practice sessions were vigorously led by Co-Captains Joe Roberts and George Cady and seven of these seniors combined to form a heavy, potent, and memorable forward wall, which was dreaded by opposing gridmen throughout the state.

With the season ended everyone anxiously awaited the results of the All-State balloting and when the returns were finally published Rutland had placed three men on the first team. Co-captain George Cady was elected as a tackle and Malcolm Guild and Olaf Garcia were chosen as halfbacks. Cady's fine tackling and expert line rushing helped him capture a berth on the All-State squad, while Garcia, a junior was one of the most aggressive backs in the state. And, there was choice in the case of Guild, who paced the offensive power of the Raiders by posting an amazing 90 points for the season. Sandy Guynup, who in the minds of many observers was one of the best tackles to appear in a Rutland lineup for sometime, barely missed an All-State position and instead he was placed on the second team as a tackle.

Despite the loss of thirteen seniors the 1952 Raider gridiron edition should be able to carry its weight with Co-captains "Yogi" Garcia and Jim Grady, Stuart St. Peter, Fred Taylor, and Louis Day forming the nucleus in the backfield. It is also expected that the forward wall will be effective with such standouts as line captain, Dick Lane, Jack Westburg, Henry Dahlgren, Ronnie Horton, Tom Eddy, Charlie Blanchard, Phil Knapp, Dick Crossman, and John Spafford.

Team scoring was not limited to Guild as "Yogi" Garcia charged for seven touchdown jaunts and converted twice for a total of 44 markers, second only to Guild's 90 points. Jim Grady and Fred Taylor chipped in three TD's each and Stuart St. Peter racked up 15 points, nine of which were the result of conversions.

BASKETBALL

Coach Leo Keefe's 1952 Red Raiders, headed by four seniors, turned in a memorable record, winning Vermont schoolboy's Triple Crown. The Redmen posted top honors in the Southern Vermont League, the Southern Vermont Tournament and the State Tourney, to complete the year with a total of 22 wins and only 6 defeats.

Although this year's squad was not of the flashy type it played brilliant basketball, winning 12 out of 14 games in league play. In other competition the Redmen dropped only four decisions, three of them to out-of-state clubs.

Keefe's Warriors found the going a little rough when they went on a holiday barnstorming tour to New York City area in December and were set back two out of three contests with strong New York teams. But at no other time did the Raiders find their pre-season tilts difficult, for they easily conquered all other foes to post a 5-2 record going into the SVL.

Rutland played spectacular ball, taking an early lead on the strength of a three pronged offensive punch supplied by the "Big Three," consisting of Captain Russ Shappy, rangy George Cady and "Sandy" Guynup. Shappy paced the SVL in the scoring department for more than half the season and was the key man in the Rutland lineup. These boys supplied the power that enabled the Warriors to decision each league opponent twice, with the exception of West Rutland and M.S.J., who split with the Keefemen.

Excellent offensive and defensive play characterized Rutland's brand of ball. The Raider sharp shooters drilled in 1208 counters in 24 tiffs, to compile an offensive average of 50.33 points per game. At no time were they held under 30 points for a single contest.

On the other hand, the Red and White's defensive aces held the opposition under 30 points on several occasions. The total scored against the Redmen in 24 tilts was only 900, which is an average of 37.5 markers per game. This admirable defensive record was made possible by Malc Guild, "Yogi" Garcia and Stuart St. Peter, the Raider guards. Guild was an expert at intercepting passes, in addition to being a first rate guard. Garcia was such an aggressive guard that opposing players found it difficult to get off shots and often became so nervous that they would throw the ball away. St. Peter, acting as sixth man, was as good as any of the regulars playing a good floor game and scoring 119 points in 28 games.

Tournament

The team scoring was led by Shappy, who dropped in 348 points in 28 contests and in the runner up spot was big Cady with 312. "Sandy" Guynup and "Yogi" Garcia followed with 216 and 209 counters, respectively. Shappy's sharp shooting netted him third place among the top twenty scorers in the SVL, while Cady's alert marksmanship placed him sixth.

After taking the SVL crown the Keefemen went on to notch a 64-47 verdict over Bellows Falls and a 41-34 verdict over M.S.J. to capture the Southern Vermont Tourney title. Then the surging Raiders proceeded to whip Spaulding of Barre, 42-36, thus being crowned State Champions. However, speedy powerhouse Springfield Tech from Springfield, Massachusetts handed the Redmen their first defeat in tournament play, 43-37, in the opening round of the New England tourney, which was held at the Boston Garden.

Individually the Warriors reaped in several honors, as Garcia and Shappy were selected on the All-Tournament Class A team, for the Southern Vermont tourney. But the payoff came when Guild was elected to the All-New England tournament team.

Coach Keefe can look forward to next season with optimism, despite the fact that he will lose Shappy, Cady, Guynup, Guild, Jeffords, Roberts, and Baldwin, the first four of which were starters. As a nucleus he will have four lettermen, Stuart St. Peter, Captain-elect Olaf Garcia, Jim Grady and "Bud" Knapp.

Winners of Southern Vermont Tournament

Row two: Howard Cobb, Manager; Daniel Kennedy, Robert Fitzsimmons, Edward Bartlett, Anthony White, Peter Chilos, Mr. Lloyd Flaitz, Coach.

J. V. BASKETBALL

Coach Lloyd Flaitz molded one of the most successful jayvee squads that Rutland High School has seen in several seasons as the 1951-52 version posted a season's record of 18 wins out of 20 starts. The junior Raiders dropped but two decisions to Whitehall, but they were undefeated in state competition and were winners of the Southern Vermont league, in addition to copping the city title by edging M.S.J. twice.

The squad was composed of six juniors—Henry Dahlgren, Donald King, Steve Lyne, Peter Perkins, Jim Grady and Pete Chilos—and seven sophomores—Phil Knapp, Ronald Horton, Ed Bartlett, Dan Allen, Dan Kennedy, Bob Fitzsimmons, and Tony White. And, under the tutelage of Flaitz, several of these boys developed into serious contenders for varsity berths next season.

This year's club also boasted a potent offense as it piled up a total of 814 counters in twenty tiffs. Rangy Phil Knapp was the leader of this effective point-producing machine with 224 points and Ronnie Horton and Henry Dahlgren ranked second and third with 140 and 133, respectively.

In addition to the excellent sharp shooting of the Flaitzmen defense was a key factor to their unchecked success. They held the opposition to 583 markers for an average of 29.1; they compiled an offensive average of 40.7 points per contest.

With only "Yogi" Garcia and Stuart St. Peter left from this year's varsity contingent next winter's team will have to be composed largely of men from Flaitz's talented 1951-52 jayvee squad.

Row two: Ronald Edwards, Russell Shedd, Robert Spaulding, Whitney Butterfield, Charles Armstrong, Peter Sloan.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Coach George Sloan's freshmen cagers captured the runner up spot in the 1952 Freshman-Sophomore tournament, despite the fact that their regular season's record was not impressive. The Rutland frosh were automatically slated to play in the semi-finals when they received a bye in the opening round.

Sloan's crew edged Poultney, 13-11, thus qualifying them to meet M.S.J. for the freshman championship. The battle for the crown saw the future Raiders post a 12-7 half time lead, but the young Mounties came back strong in the last half to clip the Rutlanders 23-18.

HOMEROOM BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

The seniors gathered in the honors in November's Home Room tournament with Room 102 capturing the crown by trimming Room 101, 34-12. The star-studded 102 set-up was too much for 101. Tricky Dick Grace headed the winner's lineup and Malc Guild, Sandy Guynup, Jim Jeffords, George Hansen, and Charlie Nassau rounded out a formidable combination.

Big George Cady and Nelson Baldwin carried the bulk of the offensive work for the losers. Cady and Baldwin also offered the opposition plenty of competition under the boards, but nothing could turn the tide against the powerful 102 squad.

FIELD HOCKEY

A hard fighting crew of junior girls won the class field hockey title this year by nudging the sophomores in the finals, 3-1, behind the stellar play of Gerry Cheney, who racked up all of the junior goals.

The sophomore contingent gained a berth in the finals by clipping the seniors, 2-1, in an exciting opening round contest, which saw Shirley Baker star on offense by accounting for both the sophomore tallies.

Although Shirley Baker and Beverly Horton made a desperate attempt to subdue the superior juniors, it was to no avail. The third year lassies sewed up the sophomores with an effective defense and their brilliant offensive play could not be halted.

Ski Team

THOMAS DOLAN, JOHN STETSON

The ski team this season consisted of the following: Tom Dolan and John Stetson, Co-captains; Ted Willis, Manager; and David Petraglia, Tony Adams, and Bob Mulholland. The first meet of the year we won; it was held at Burr and Burton in Manchester. Following this a district meet for teams in southern Vermont was held at Putney. Eight schools competed for the privilege of attending the state meet at Northfield. We lost by a slight margin. Our next trip was to High Pond for a triangular meet; Rutland, Burr and Burton, and Woodstock competed, but the last took the honors. Later in the season, we met Northfield at High Pond. Some events had to be deferred, and the meet was completed at Northfield, the home team taking the meet by three points. Rutland also entered the Middlebury meet where we finished fourth. The final meet was held at Mad River and was for Prep and high school teams. There, bad luck plagued our boys, and they finished seventh out of twelve.

Next year's captain has not been selected as yet, but the team will count on such veterans as Tony Adams, Dave Petraglia, and Bob Mulholland. With the addition of some up and coming underclassmen we could have an outstanding team next season. The coach of this year's contingent was Bill Jenkins of Rutland, a U.S.E.A. Ski instructor at High Pond and at Green Mountain Junior College.

Row two: Robert Ellison, Richard Tower, Marshall Galaher, John Stetson, Edward Bartlett, David Wisell, Fred Taylor, Peter Perkins, Pierce Smith, Paul Carrara, Whitney Butterfield.

Track

After losing their first meet to Keene, New Hampshire, Coach Howard Douglas's cindermen came back strong to capture top honors in a triangular affair with Bellows Falls and Brattleboro. The Raider thinclads scored heavily in the field events to reap in a total of $57\frac{1}{2}$ points, edging out the second place Bellows Falls Terriers by $4\frac{1}{2}$ counters. It was one of the most thrilling meets of the season as the Redmen came from behind to win the fracas on the strength of three places in the final event. Russ Shappy secured a first in the javelin, while Captain Nelson Baldwin and George Hansen followed with a second and third respectively to net the Raiders 10 counters and first place in the meet.

Shappy was one of the most outstanding individual performers, making his brilliant javelin throwing known throughout the state. To open the season he took first place in the Keene meet with a heave of 169 feet, 9 inches.

George Cady, Jim Jeffords, Nelson Baldwin, Jack Stetson, Bill Farwell, Joseph Roberts, and Martin Welch were leading figures in the 1952 campaign. Cady was noted for his superior discus throwing, in addition to his adequate performances in the shot put and high jump. Jeffords excelled in the mile and half mile, while Baldwin, a versatile lad, paced the way in broad jump and added strength to the half mile and javelin. Martin Welch performed brilliantly in the pole vault. Jack Stetson after a late season start did very well in the mile, and Bill Farwell finally bloomed into an excellent discus thrower and high jumper.

Three of the hardest working men on the squad were Joe Roberts, George Hansen and Tom Dolan. Roberts displayed his talents in the shot put, 440 yard dash and the discus. Hansen and Dolan were the Rutland mainstays in the hurdles and Hansen showed skill at tossing the javelin.

Captain

Underclassmen are numerous and in time will acquire skill and experience to their credit. Don Sharon, Fred Taylor, Steve Lyne, Pete Perkins, Herbert Russell and Edwin Turner, juniors, headed the list. Sharon was an accomplished miler; Lyne and Taylor held sway in the 100-yard dash and the 220. Perkins performed well in the pole vaulting contests and javelin throwing. The sophomores supplied Edward Bartlett, Bert Muzzey, Al Trinci, Tony Adams, David Petraglia, Robert Fearon, Walter Manney and William Hartigan. Freshman prospects were excellent with John Linker, Pierce Smith, Bronson Spencer, John Stearns, Richard Foltz, Bruce Sherman, Harvey Butterfield, Paul Carrara and Robert Hughes.

The managerial staff was Donald Evans, Manager; Bruce Charnley, Assistant Manager; and Francis Burney and Stetson Edmunds, Scrub Managers.

State Meet at Middlebury

Baseball

Under the capable coaching of Al Martin, Rutland's 1952 diamond crew posted an impressive start, racking up four wins in its first six starts. The Brattleboro Colonels, State Champions in 1951, and the Burlington Sea Horses were the only clubs to take a decision from the Raiders in their initial six contests.

To begin the season, the Warriors notched three straight, dropping Poultney in the opener and then Springfield and Poultney again. Bernie Rome's portsided slants halted the Poultney crew as the Redmen started the year in the win column. Ronnie Horton came on in relief to nail down the win in the Springfield contest and Rome held sway over Poultney a second time, as Rutland came up with its second and third triumphs.

Martin placed the accent on youth, assigning four sophomores, three juniors and only one senior to starting berths. Captain Malc Guild, who resided at the short stop post, was the senior member. His stellar batting helped the club tremendously in the early portion of the season, when he belted the ball at a .400 clip.

Louie Day held down the first base job and appeared to be a good prospect for the future. The sophomore first sacker played well on the defense and was developing into a dangerous sticker. Pete Chilos, a junior, covered the territory around the keystone with ease of a veteran and he was no slouch at the plate. With Guild at short and Danny Kennedy at the hot corner the Raiders had a smooth operating infield. Kennedy, who has two more years to play, looks as if he would develop into excellent material for the future. Yogi Garcia, one of the most colorful members of this year's squad, handled the receiving duties for the third consecutive year. Garcia took over behind the plate when he was a freshman and this year he was considered by many observers to be one of the best high school backstops in Vermont schoolboy baseball.

Captain

Two sophomores and a junior formed the Raiders outer defense. Ronnie Horton, in addition to pitching, played in the left field pasture and batted in the cleanup spot. Stuart St. Peter and Jim Grady, a junior patrolled in center and left field, respectively.

Rutland's hurling staff was not spectacular, for it had only one veteran member. Bernie Rome, the one veteran, looked good during the early season, while Horton and Gordie Stevens also gave the Redmen creditable mound support. Horton is a fireball specialist and Stevens is a good curve ball pitcher and both will return in 1953.

IN MEMORIAM

Robert Weinle

"Eternal Rest Grant Unto Him, O Lord!"

In commemoration we dedicate this page to our beloved former classmate. The death of Robert brought sadness to the hearts of many. His fellow sophomores were deeply grieved at the loss of a classmate who had been with them from the very beginning of their school days. Robert with his shy smile and pleasing personality was one who appreciated the better things of life. It pleased God to call him from this life while Robert was still a boy. He shall be long remembered in the hearts of his fellow students and of the faculty.

Around the Corner from Anywhere

Graduation—an event no student ever forgets. Refreshment is always in order to celebrate the occasion. So, have a Coke. Coca-Cola just naturally goes with never-to-be-forgotten times. And Coca-Cola is always just around the corner from anywhere. It belongs with happy moments and friendly living.

But A Helping Hand

That's what the Basil L. Smith System offers to yearbook staffs. Our 20 years experience in this field means that extra lift over a production problem, when it is most needed . . . that extra assistance, to iron the wrinkles out of a layout difficulty . . . that extra service, designed to help schools chart a smooth journey to yearbook success.

We are proud to have given a helping hand in the publication of this fine annual . . .
